The action arose from the sale of a tractor purchased by McGlaughlin at a sale conducted by Miller. After purchasing the tractor, McGlaughlin said he discovered a crack in the motor block. Repair of the damage cost $206.62, according to the bills presented at the trial.

The jury hearing the case deliberated about 15 minutes to reach its verdict. ## URGES FFA BOYS TO TAKE PART IN STATE CONTEST

Carlson Mertz, director of rural safety for the state Department of Public Instruction, urged the Adams-Franklin counties Future Farmers of America chapters to participate in the annual Community Improvement Program contest of the state at a meeting of agricultural teachers from the two counties Wednesday night at Gettysburg High School.

Mertz outlined the program by which the FFA members go to their own farms, and to the farms of neighbors who give permission, to look for safety hazards and place markers on the hazards.

"Sometimes as high as 200 safety hazards are found," Mertz said, "Most farmers, in fact all of us, have been living with hazards so long that we do not see them at all unless we go looking for them in a special program."

Will Check Up
Thirty days after the first inspection, the teams of FFA members return to the farms to determine what changes have been made to remove the hazards.

Mertz said that the two county groups will receive full instruction books and guides for checking hazards in the near future.

Red Leaders Assert Russia Can Seize Power Peacefully In Many Capitalist Capitals

LONDON (AP)—The world's Communist leaders—minus Yugoslavia—claim that the Reds can use "popular fronts" to seize power peacefully in "a number of capitalist countries."

The assertion, made in a communiqué on the Red summit talks in Moscow last week, did not name the countries.

The communiqué also called for more conferences "as the need arises . . . of Communist and workers parties" to coordinate action.

The text of the communiqué, broadcast first last night by Peiping radio, filled a full newspaper page. It generally repeated the usual Soviet propaganda line—Western capitalism has had it and communism, the savior of the world, will win in the end.

Make Open Boast
The communiqué said: "Today in a number of capitalist countries the working class headed by its vanguard (the Communist party) has the opportunity, given a united working class and popular front or other workable forms of agreement and political cooperation . . . to seize power peacefully in a number of capitalist countries."

JAYCEES VISIT CO. LIBRARY AND PLAN PROJECTS

Christmas and Library projects were before the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Thursday evening at the county library building on E. High St.

Santa's Shanty will be on Lincoln Square for about two weeks prior to Christmas, according to plans discussed at the session, and it was decided that Santa would make a formal arrival at his "Shanty" where he will greet youngsters during the season. A committee comprising Robert Pond, Mark Gingrich, Richard Clark, Richard Yingling and Wesley Kreibel will complete the arrangements for Santa's arrival and stay.

A committee comprising William Lentz, Robert Hixon, Leonard Trent, Carroll Smith and Robert McClarian will arrange for an "Orphans' Christmas Shopping Tour." Under that plan a number of children from nearby orphanages will be selected and brought to Gettysburg on December 21. Each child will be given several dollars and then will be allowed to purchase what he pleases for whomever he wishes. Donald Becker, state Jaycee vice president, said experience in similar programs by other Jaycee clubs shows that such a program provides for many of the children their first opportunity to buy something.

Plan Library Project
The meeting was held at the library to familiarize the members with the 12-year-old county establishment. The state and national Jaycee programs this year call for all local units to aid their local libraries. At Thursday night's session Mrs. Oren Wilson, the librarian told about the library's services and problems. The Jaycees at a later meeting will determine the project or projects they plan to undertake.

TRIAL OF 8 IN 'PIKE FRAUD IS NEARING CLOSE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Defense attorneys called character witnesses today at the trial of eight men charged with conspiring to defraud the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission of half million dollars.

The action indicated the defense was nearing end of its case and that it might be given the jury tomorrow after both sides complete their closing statements.

Character witnesses testified on behalf of Joseph Rogers, part owner of the Rogers Brothers Construction Co., Scranton; Walter G. Ketas, Clarks Summit, an official of the Rogers firm and William Lipfert, Trucksville.

Given Electric Organ
All defendants were employees either of the Rogers firm and Manu-Mine Research and Development Company, Reading. Manu-Mine held the main contract for the mine filling with Rogers as a subcontractor.

One of the defendants, Donald H. Burkert, Ashland project manager for Manu-Mine testified he was given an electric organ by Rogers. He said, however, he paid Rogers $10,035 for the organ several months after it was received as a gift.

"Didn't you get the organ just for not knowing what was going on?" asked Vincent G. Panati, deputy attorney general, on cross examination.

Denies Statement
"No, I did not," Burkert replied.

Panati said Burkert repaid Rogers for the organ after an investigation of Manu-Mine contract was started in February, 1955.

"But you back-dated the check so that it would precede the investigation," Panati said.

Burkert denied Panati's statement. He contended the organ was given him in return for introducing a new method for silt dumping. Burkert claimed that method saved the firm thousands of dollars.

David S. Kohn, attorney for one of the defendants, said the defense probably could complete its case late today if the prosecution cross-examination "is not too long."

This is the fourth day of the trial of the eight men accused of plotting to cheat the commission in work done on the toll road North-eastern Extension.

Others Entered Pleas
The commonwealth claimed officials of Rogers Bros. Construction Co., Scranton, bribed employees of Manu-Mine Research and Development Co., Reading, to go along with an alleged scheme to charge the commission for road-bed filler which never was delivered.

The filler was to be used for stabilizing a section of the north-eastern spur.

Five other men were accused in the case. Four pleaded guilty and appeared as prosecution witnesses. The fifth has been granted a delay due to ill health.

WILL PAY FOR NAZI CRUELTY

BONN, Germany (AP) — A plan for compensating persons persecuted by the Nazis during German wartime occupation of European countries is nearing completion, the Foreign Office said today.

A spokesman said the government was prepared to go to the utmost in compensating former concentration camp inmates. He said a note on the details was being prepared and probably would be delivered to the interested countries early next year.

The question has been under consideration for over a year after demands sent to West Germany by Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Norway, Denmark, Greece and Switzerland.

As neither German domestic legislation nor the London debts agreement provided for compensation for non-Germans, it was necessary to find some other way to do it, the spokesman said.

To overcome the legal difficulties, it was planned to set up a sort of private trust.

CLAIMS RUSSIA KIDNAPT 2,000 TOP SCIENTISTS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Russia kidnapped more than 2,000 leading German scientists from East Germany after World War II, a former Soviet Army officer testified yesterday.

They were put to work on Russian missile and satellite projects, said Vladimir Shabinsky, a former lieutenant colonel who fled in 1947 from the Soviet occupation zone.

Shabinsky testified at a hearing of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

U.S. Was Enemy
"My leaders told me and other officers in Germany after World War II that the United States was our No. 1 enemy," Shabinsky said.

He identified one of the scientists as Siegfried Günther, a former chief designer at the Heinkel aviation plant in Germany. He said Günther spent between five and six years in Russia and was one of the most important developers of modern Russian jet planes.

Günther at first offered his services to the United States, subcommittee Counsel Robert Morris said, but was not accepted. According to Morris, Günther then returned to the Soviet zone and was kidnapped by the Russians within 48 hours.

Others Are Called

Witnesses called to testify regarding Communist associations included George Merlo of Phillipsburg, N. J., a tanning factory worker at Easton, Pa.; Robert Miller of Easton, another tanning factory worker; C. W. Fowler of Hammonton, N. J., former poultry farmer and an official of the United Electrical Workers District Council in Philadelphia; and William Hood of Philadelphia, who said he was in the food distribution business.

All pleaded the first or fifth amendment to questions regarding were said by Morris to have been identified by FBI undercover

ARABS APPEAL TO 2 GROUPS TO END CONFLICT

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Leaders of the Arab states flanking Algeria today addressed an urgent appeal to France and Algerian rebels to negotiate an end of their three-year conflict.

King Mohammed V of Morocco and President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia offered their good offices in peace negotiations.

There was no immediate reaction from French officials or from leaders of the Algerian National Liberation Front (NLF), the chief rebel group fighting for independence for France's North African province. Sources at the United Nations, where the Algerian rebellion is scheduled for debate next week, predicted that nothing would come of the appeal.

The appeal was made at the end of a two-day meeting between Mohammed and Bourguiba, who led their countries from French protectorates to independence last year.

The King and Bourguiba, who tacitly support the rebels while seeking not to give open offense to France, apparently hoped for American support of their offer. Mohammed will fly to Washington next week for a 15-day state visit.

Terms of the settlement were not made public.

WHITE HOUSE AIDE TALKS TO GOP WOMEN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —A White House aide told the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women today there is "great need for infusing the Eisenhower philosophy of life" into GOP activities in the Keystone State.

"This is especially essential," said E. Frederic Morrow, administrative officer of the White House Special Projects Group, "if we want to win back to the party the great bulk of negro voters who were lured into the Democratic ranks because that party was making noises like a liberal group."

300 Attending
Morrow said in his prepared remarks to some 300 women attending a session of the council's 35th annual convention that President Eisenhower is 100 per cent for equality for every American regardless of race, color or creed. He said that this attitude hasn't been adopted completely by all republicans.

Also on the morning program was a panel discussion on "Federal-State Relationships" moderated by Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-PA). On the panel were Rep. Katherine St. George (R-NY), Speaker W. Stuart Helm of the State House of Representatives and State Sen. Edward J. Kessler, chairman of the Senate's finance committee.

Mrs. Mitchell MacCartney of Altoona was unopposed for the office of president of the council to succeed Mrs. William E. Martindale of Harrisburg.

Delegates voted on special machines during the morning and results were to be announced in the afternoon.

The council, meanwhile, had before it a resolution urging a drive to emphasize the advantage of voting a straight party ticket.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Secretary of Labor and Industry, William L. Blatt, said today two employer representatives have resigned from a panel set up to study minimum wages for women and minors in hotels but that the panel would "keep going."

Plans were made for attendance at the Ice Follies November 29. The group will leave York Springs at 6:30 p.m.

LIVING COSTS HOLDS STEADY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living held steady in October. It was the first time in 14 months the government measure of consumer prices had not risen.

A slight drop in food prices was enough to keep the price index at the same level as in September, the Labor Department reported today.

Rises in some other items offset the decline of one-half of one per cent in food costs, leaving the index at 121.1, exactly the same as it was in September. This was 2.9 per cent higher than a year ago.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said buying power of factory workers dropped more than one per cent in October and was down by more than three per cent compared with a year ago.

The October index bore out, at carry out for the county library this year.

Mrs. Wilson told the group that, in order to be up to the national average of two books per capita, the county library should have 88,394 volumes. It has 31,927. But despite the smaller than average number of books, the county library is high in total circulation, with 207,000 books loans a year. "That means that many of the books in the library are read many times during the year," she noted. Major problem of the library is lack of funds to purchase new books, pay off the mortgage and make needed repairs and expansion, she told the group.

When funds are available, she said, the library plans to fix up second floor rooms at the library, one of them as a center for recorded music collection, paint the exterior and interior, enlarge some facilities, replace the present heating plant, and "do something" about the parking lot. The national average of tax support for libraries in seventh class counties is 87 per cent, she said. The Adams County Free Library received 34 per cent of its support from taxes — that is through donations from the county, borough, school boards and state.

Announce Honors Soon

Some immediate needs of the library, she said, are new signs for the building, "a coat of paint" and book return device to permit persons to return books during hours the library is closed.

Reports at Thursday's meeting showed 47 members and guests of the Gettysburg unit attended the dinner held at Hanover for the national Junior Chamber president, Charles Shearer.

Reports showed the Outstanding Young Farmer will be selected Saturday, the Voice of Democracy program at which winner will be announced will be presented over WGET Tuesday evening.

DR. NATHAN IS ACQUITTED IN CONTEMPT CASE

WASHINGTON (AP) —Dr. Otto Nathan, executor of the estate of the late Albert Einstein, was acquitted today of contempt of Congress charges by a judge who said he made the ruling reluctantly.

U.S. Dist. Judge Edward M. Curran, who convicted Nathan last May 30 on two counts of contempt of Congress, reversed himself today on the basis of the Supreme Court's decision in the Watkins case.

Curran said he does not subscribe to the judgment of the Supreme Court in the Watkins case "but I cannot substitute my judgment for that of the Supreme Court. I am bound by it."

Refused To Talk

Nathan, 64, a German-born associate professor of economics at New York University, was originally convicted by Curran of illegally refusing to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities in June 1956 whether he had ever been a member of the Communist party and whether an affidavit filed with the State Department was true or false. In that affidavit Nathan said he never had been a Communist.

Nathan was granted a passport to go to Europe after a long fight in the courts.

Nathan told reporters after his acquittal that the Watkins decision "makes it clear that the House Committee on Un-American Activities proceeded illegally in its investigations and violated by its questioning our constitutional freedoms."

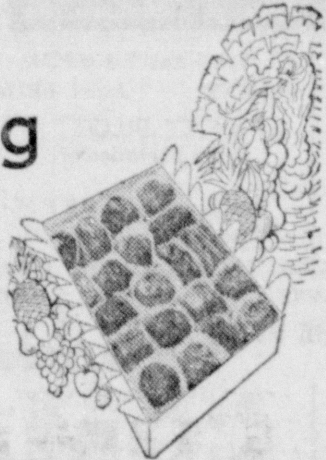

In the Watkins decision, the Supreme Court held in essence that congressional investigating committees must set out their objectives clearly.

Recently elected officers were installed before a gathering of nearly 250 persons.

The ceremony of the institution of the new chapter was conducted by Mrs. Eva Boese, senior regent of the Hanover chapter of the Women of the moose. The guest speaker was Mrs. Frieda Clinger, junior graduate grand regent of Lewistown.

Jap Fleet Battered: Washington, Nov. 17 (AP) - The United States Navy dominated the battle-quickened waters of the Solomon Islands today after crushing a mighty Japanese armada in an epic struggle which might well have broken the back of the enemy fleet.

In a savage three-day conflict that sent the foe's battered naval remnants into hiding, 23 Nipponese ships were sunk, seven were damaged and possibly 20,000 to 40,000 Japanese troops were lost in the swirl of sunken transports.

The partial reports listed the sinking of a Japanese battleship, three heavy cruisers, two light cruisers, five destroyers, eight transports and four cargo ships. The American losses were given as two light cruisers and six destroyers.

Fairfield Cast To Give Comedy: "Hullabaloo," a three act comedy, will be presented by the pupils of the Fairfield high school in the Fairfield community hall Friday evening.

The leading roles will be played by Jo-Ellen Nary, William Shultz, Kathleen Kump, Floyd Currens, Merle Shindldecker, Dale McCann and Kathleen Strausbaugh.

Laud Backers Of Grid Lights: The Athletic Council of Gettysburg high school has directed letters of appreciation to the 35 local residents and businesses who endorsed the notes with which the purchase and installation of lights on the school athletic field were financed early in the fall of 1940.

At their meeting on Monday evening the members of the council made special mention of the services of Dr. W. S. Mountain who promoted the project and worked out plans for financing the lights at a total cost of about $2,000 and of Ralph Z. Orlie, who supplied the equipment and kept the cost at a minimum.

How Would You Get A Cow Out Of A Well? A 1,200 pound Holstein cow owned by Freeman Weigle, near Biglerville, was rescued from a 25-foot well Wednesday afternoon after it had struggled for two hours to keep afloat in 18 feet of water.

The cow crashed through rotted boards covering a well in the field where the herd was grazing. The Biglerville Fire company was summoned and pumped the well dry. Then a winch supplied by the Rees company was used to lift the cow from the well. The animal

SUBSTITUTES

When I go into a store and ask for a certain article and the clerk tells me they do not have it but that they do have one "just as good," I am disappointed. That substitute may be the best one, but I had my heart set upon the original or the one about which I had learned and intended to buy.

Our entire life is cluttered up with substitutes! People substitute for honesty, religion, faith, intelligence and any number of foods. If we have at least one tried and true friend there is no substitute. Such a one is unique.

A friend of mine lost his pet dog that had been such a joy and comfort to him. It was killed by a careless driver. The occasion brought sorrow, and even tears, for where could he get another dog he loved as the one so brutally slain? To alleviate that loss he purchased another that looked like his lost pet, a dog of the same breed - but he knew the substitute could never make up for the one gone. Love is a difficult thing to get a substitute for!

The first book I read as a boy so delighted me I could not convince myself there could ever be a book that would take its place, but I soon learned there were thousands of other books, that while they might never give the thrill that first one did, there were many that could match the love I had for that first one.

It is a good plan to have a personal code, one that may serve as a model for many affairs of our lives. A code for excellence, honor, integrity and good taste. A love of all nature, friends, and good reading. There are no substitutes for the best!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Books That Think."

DAME RUMOR

Dame Rumor is a busy jade
And gossip is her stock in trade.
She travels east and travels west
And never pauses for a rest.
No one has ever seen her face,
And yet she's known in every place.
No woman can describe her goin',
And yet she's known in every town.

Dame Rumor calls nobody friend;
She's heartless, cruel to the end.
No reputation does she spare
That is entrusted to her care.
She whispers scandal far and near
And always finds a ready ear;
And next, a willing tongue to tell
Her harmful tale, and do it well.

Dame Rumor, mother of the lie,
Spares neither humble man nor high.
Her record is as black as jet,
But, strangely, man believes her, yet.
Untruthful though she's known to be,
Man still puts on her livery
And does her work with ghoulish pride
Instead of thrusting her aside.

SQUILLANTE IS JAILED TODAY ON EXTORTION

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP)—Garbage truck king Vincent Squillante was jailed today on an indictment charging extortion.

Squillante, self-styled godson of the murdered mobster Albert Anastasia, was held in a cll pending arraignment later in the day along with an indicted brother and an associate.

Squillante, 40, is accused of extortion and racketeering in the garbage collection industry in Nassau County, a Long Island commuting suburb of New York City.

Took The 5th

Allegedly the racket boss of the 50 - million-dollar-a-year garbage and rubbish pickup business in the New York metropolitan area, he took the Fifth Amendment last Friday in Washington. He refused to answer questions before the Senate committee investigating rackets in the fields of labor and management.

The county grand jury, meeting in an extraordinary night session, handed up indictments shortly before last midnight against Squillante, his brother Nunzio and Carmen De Cabia, president of the Nassau-Suffolk (County) Car-men's Assn., an employer group.

Paid After Threats

All three were charged with attempted extortion, and Vincent Squillante and De Cabia with extortion also, in connection with garbage carting contracts at Mitchell Air Force Base and its nearby barracks area.

The indictment charges that Angelo Recchia, who formerly held a $3,900-a-year contract to haul the garbage of a housing project at Mitchell Air Force Base, gave it up to the Squillante group after being threatened that he would be forced out of business. Recchia was a witness at the night grand jury session.

Immediately after the grand jury returned the indictments, County Judge Paul Widitz issued bench warrants to police, who picked up the defendants at their homes.

Latest Developments

Among latest developments in the ever-widening investigations were these:

1. Three Brooklyn men who reportedly attended the Apalachin conclave were taken into custody yesterday by New York City police. All were released late last night after almost eight hours of questioning. Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said they were grilled about the Anastasia murder—the same grilling that had been given to other Apalachin conferees, in New York City and elsewhere.
2. New York City police sought to round up several other men who attended the Apalachin meeting.
3. The FBI stepped into the garbage collection racket probe after charges by the head of a garbage hauling company that Teamster Union business agents had harassed his drivers after his appearance as a "cooperative" witness before the Senate committee last week. The complainant, John Montesano, who heads a hauling firm in Nassau County, was one of the witnesses before the grand jury last night. Federal law provides a five-year prison penalty for attempting to influence or intimidate a witness in a congressional inquiry.
4. The New York State Legislature's "watchdog" committee started to look into the circumstances of the state police raid on the Apalachin gathering. There

16 ARE INJURED ABOARD CRAZILY BOUNCING PLANE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Western Air Lines plane carrying 33 persons bounced crazily through the air east of here last night after hitting a downdraft over Ontario. Fourteen passengers and two stewardesses were injured.

The stewardesses and some of the passengers were thrown against the roof of the DC6B when it was sucked downward by the draft, then pitched up by a reverse draft, and almost immediately jerked down again by still another draft.

The cabin was filled with flying luggage as passengers were hurled from their seats.

2 Knocked Unconscious

The stewardesses, Diane Hallock, 22, Los Angeles, and Sue Etzel, 21, San Diego, were knocked unconscious, along with a number of the passengers. Four of the passengers were still unconscious when the plane landed safely at Los Angeles International Airport. The flight started at Las Vegas, Nev.

The pilot, Capt. W. C. Steen, said he blinked on seat belt warning lights as the plane approached Ontario. But several of the passengers apparently were still moving about the cabin, watching a roaring forest fire north of Azusa, when the plane hit the downdraft.

has been some criticism because the 60-odd mobsters were let go after being checked. The "watchdog" committee is the Republican-controlled Legislature's agency to keep tabs on the Democratic administration of Gov. Averell Harriman.

5. In Buffalo, James V. La Duca, one of those who attended the Apalachin meeting, was forced to resign as the $250-a-week secretary-treasurer of Buffalo Local 66 of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union. Edward S. Miller of Cincinnati, general international president of the union, forced the resignation.

ing last fall, Western Socialist willingness to cooperate waned, but Soviet prestige based on launching of earth satellites has recently renewed the attraction in some countries.

"Seek Cooperation"

The Reds cast a special lure for Western Socialists:

"In the struggle for winning power and building socialism (communism), the Communist parties seek cooperation with the Socialist parties. Although the right-wing Socialist party leaders are doing their best to hamper this cooperation, there are increasing opportunities for cooperation between the Communists and Socialists on many issues."

"The participants in the meeting arrived at the conclusion," the communists said, "that in present conditions it is expedient . . . to hold, as the need arises, more representative conferences of Communist and workers parties to discuss current problems, share experience, study each others views and attitudes and concert action in the joint struggle for the common goals—peace, democracy and socialism."

This apparently was as close as the delegates approached to re-establishing a central coordinating agency for world communism similar to the Cominform, which was dissolved last year.

Those attending the conference, which followed Russian celebrations of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, were listed in orders as Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, North Viet Nam, East Germany, North China, North Korea, Mongolia, Poland, Romania, the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia.

Notably absent from the list was Yugoslavia. Western diplomats said there were indications the Yugoslav delegation disagreed with some terms of the communists and refused to sign.

Foreign diplomats in Belgrade said Yugoslavia's relations with Russia have been cooling off since Marshal Georgi Zhukov was ousted as Soviet defense minister.

TECHNICIAN FED WOMAN PATIENT DEADLY POISON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A 46-year-old laboratory technician last night sobbed that she mistakenly fed a woman patient two ounces of deadly sodium cyanide thinking it was a solution for a diabetes test. The patient fell dead.

Mrs. Emily Nash said she administered the solution to Mrs. Margaret Van Alstine, 67.

Mrs. Van Alstine had called on Mrs. Nash's employer Dr. Joseph E. West Jr. Wednesday and returned for the tests at his direction.

Detective H. W. Rodgers said no charge would be filed but the case would be referred to a grand jury.

Used Discarded Bottle

Rodgers said Mrs. Nash told him she prepared what she thought was a dextrose solution Wednesday with crystals from a bottle which she discarded in a waste basket. The bottle was recovered and found to be labeled sodium cyanide.

He said Mrs. Nash told him she took a blood sample from Mrs. Van Alstine and then poured two ounces of the solution into a glass for her to drink.

She quoted Mrs. Van Alstine as saying, "Oh, that tastes horrible." The patient then drank the rest of the solution and fell from her chair, Mrs. Nash told detectives.

"It dawned on me that I might have given her the wrong solution," she wept.

Dr. West arrived a few minutes later and administered an adrenalin injection. "But she was already dead," he said.

Mrs. Van Alstine made her summer home near Big Rapids, Mich., but spent the winters with relatives here. She was a widow.

"I am fearful, however, that their action may prove to be too

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader today appointed Daniel B. Swaney, Uniontown, to the State Liquor Control Board.

Swaney, a Democrat, was named to succeed Donald A. Behney, Lebanon, whose term will expire Nov. 29.

A statement said that Swaney will take the oath of office Dec. 2. Behney is a Republican.

Swaney, 52, now is on a leave of absence from his post as principal of the Georges Twp. High School, Fayette County.

The governor, in his statement, described "swaney as 'eminently qualified' for the Liquor Control Board post 'by virtue of his excellent administrative and business background.'"

Desert Winds Fan Forest Fires, Wreck Homes, Blow Down Trees, Power Lines Near Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Devastating winds dashed out of the desert with hurricane speed yesterday, whistled through metropolitan Los Angeles on a wrecking spree, and fanned a monstrous forest fire that was still running wild today.

The Forest Service said the fire, burning northeast of here in the Angeles National Forest, might cover as much as 25,000 acres. It had burned about 18,000.

Police and sheriff's switchboards around Los Angeles and in many other parts of southern California were jammed with reports of damage caused by the shrieking winds.

Houses were wrecked, hundreds of trees were blown down, power lines were knocked out and a number of injuries were reported. There were no known deaths.

Fire Moves 22 Miles

The forest fire started yesterday when a camp fire got away from a prison crew working on a highway west of Crystal Lake, about 25 miles north of Azusa.

The fire had moved 22 miles early today. At times it was whistling along at the rate of 200 feet a minute, fanned by winds that hit 100 miles an hour in gusts.

Dave Waite, Angeles Forest fire prevention officer, said the blaze was burning only a couple of miles north of the town of Monrovia in the San Gabriel Mountain foothills. County Fire Chief Keith Klinger said other communities in danger included Azusa, Duarte, East Pasadena and Sierra Madre. All are northeast of Los Angeles.

Observatory In Danger

Waite said the famous observatory atop Mt. Wilson was in "serious danger," as were half a dozen or so Los Angeles television transmitters on the mountaintop. The crews manning these facilities were alerted for possible evacuation.

Waite said about 100 summer homes in Big Santa Anita Canyon were threatened. Four or five families occupying homes in the area were told they might have to leave.

Evacuate Youth Camp

A hundred children at Camp Hi-Hill, a Long Beach city school facility, were evacuated by bus. The evacuation was ordered when the fire was three or four miles from the mountain camp.

Chief Klinger said the blaze was in the "worst possible area" and in "the most valuable watershed in the world."

"There's 50,000 acres without a road in there," he said.

About 900 fire fighters were on the lines. A hundred Indians were to be flown in from Albuquerque, N. M.

Three Littlestown and two Biglerville High School players were selected by coaches for the Laurel Football All-Conference team which was announced Thursday evening at the annual fall-dinner meeting at Harvey's Smorgasbord, near Spry, York County.

Jack Busbey, 155, Senior, end; Robert Little, 190, Sophomore, guard, and Ronnie Crouse, 165, Junior, back, were chosen from the Thunderbolts' squad.

Biglerville's placements were Richard Hartzell, 165, Senior, end, and Joe Cicielski, 207, Junior, guard.

Crouse was the top scorer in the conference this season with 38 points on five touchdowns and eight points after touchdowns.

Central York was admitted last year to replace the Cannons in 1958 in the Laurel loop.

Sterling Ecker, Kennard-Dale, was named as secretary-treasurer.

Approximately 50 representatives from all member schools attended the meeting with Clair Trout, Dirlawston, retiring president, presiding.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Popular Chuck Taylor, Stanford's football head man the past seven seasons, finishes out his coaching career tomorrow and then helps hunt for his successor.

The 37-year-old redhead, one of the hottest exponents of the forward pass and wide-open football, will become assistant director of athletics.

Announcement that he is quitting as football coach at his alma mater and would take up new duties as right-hand man to Athletic Director Al Masters came yesterday, just two days before the traditional big game here with California.

With a record as head coach of 39 victories, 29 defeats and 2 ties, Taylor came under no pressure to resign but had stated previously that he never had planned to make coaching football a lifetime career.

7 Teams Will Join Cage Loops; More Are Sought

Six teams have indicated they desire to participate in the Community Basketball League while only one has made application for a position in the proposed Church League, it was reported today by Johnny Toggas, acting Recreation director.

Toggas said there will be one more chance for teams to apply for membership in the leagues—Monday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock at the "rec" office adjoining the auditorium in the high school building.

Teams applying for membership in the Community League so far include Shetter's, Hess Antiques, Wolf's Pastry, Celtics, Faculty Five and Fairfield.

SCORES SCHOOLS FOR PLAYING 2 GAMES IN WEEK

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Ben Funk, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football Athletic Assn., last night assailed high schools for playing more than one football game a week.

Funk, the titular head of virtually all public high school athletics in the state, condemned the practice which he said became common toward the end of the flu-ridden campaign.

In a speech at a District 10 awards meeting, Funk said he knew of one team that played three games in 7-days and was contemplating playing a fourth within a 10-day period. He didn't identify the team.

Depend On Admission
The main reason some schools have been scheduling more games than they should, Funk said, is that they depend too much on admission fees to support their athletic program.

Such a policy, Funk declared, "is a tragedy."

"Let us search our souls gentlemen," Funk said as he pleaded for schedules with no more than one game a week.

"Even the professionals wouldn't do that with mature men."

Funk was asked after the meeting what the PIAA plans to do about the situation. He replied that he couldn't speak for members of the PIAA's board of control, adding:

"I couldn't because I don't know what their attitude is."

The board of control next meets in December.

Two Americans In Tennis Tournament

ADELAIDE (AP)—Barry Mackay of Dayton, Ohio, was upset today by Bob Mark, Australia, in the second round of South Australian Tennis Championships. The Ohioan, who had been playing among the best on the U.S. Davis Cup squad, lost 6-1, 7-9, 11-9, 6-4.

Vic Seixas, the veteran Philadelphia, and Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn youth, stayed in the running. Seixas trounced Warren Jacques, Australia, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2. Holmberg, playing his best tennis since arriving in Australia, whipped Aussie John Pearce 6-3, 6-0, 7-5.

The 44-year-old Gardner Mulloy, of Miami, Fla., was eliminated by Mal Anderson, the Aussie who holds the U.S. championship. Mulloy put up a stiff fight before going down 6-3, 8-6, 4-6, 6-3.

Bullets Win 11 Soccer Games In 12 Starts

Gettysburg College's 1957 soccer squad, playing its first season under Guillermo "Bill" Barriga as coach, turned in the finest record since the sport was begun in 1932. The Bullets won nine victories, lost but one while two games ended in ties. They finished in the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference, Rutgers capturing the top position with an unbeaten record.

Standing, Coach Barriga, Don Emich, Ritter Smith, Jack Hathaway, Thomas Crain, Robert Smith, Roger Jackson, John Henschen and George Billman, manager. John Farquhar was missing when the picture was taken because of illness.

Two Bullet players received All-American votes from officials in three games. They are Robert Smith, center half, and Connie Youse, left half.

With only five seniors on the squad, the outlook for 1958 is bright. Those who will graduate include Byrne, Marsden, Crain, Henschen and Farquhar.

Coach Barriga has some fine prospects coming up from the freshman squad including Keith Roberts, Bob Hershey, Bob DeCamara, "Tut" Burtzell, John Wintersteen, Pete Humrichouse, Donald Oakley and Robert Anderson. The frosh played two games during the season, tying Mercersburg Academy at 3-3 and then defeating the same team 4-1.

Barriga is well qualified for his new position. He first played in 1927 for the LaSalle School of Bogota, Colombia. An inside right, he played on Colombia's Olympic championship team in 1932. From 1934 to 1938 he was captain of the Colombia Naval Academy team. As a member of the Colombia Naval team for many years, he played under: Fernando Paternoster, the great Argentine star, and took part in games in Martinique, Venezuela, Panama and Ecuador.

Rutgers, Swarthmore Seek Soccer Title

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Rutgers and Swarthmore will meet for the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Athletic Conference soccer title at New Brunswick, N.J., Wednesday, it was announced here yesterday.

Rutgers won the Northern Division title a week ago and finished league competition with a 7-0 mark.

Swarthmore presently stands at 5-0 in the Southern Division but can't lose the divisional pennant even if it should be beaten Saturday by Haverford.

Announcement of the conference playoff was made by Willis J. Stetson of Swarthmore, executive director of the conference.

FOOTBALL PROS THREATEN SUIT FOR $4,200,000

CLEVELAND (AP)—The National Football League Players Assn. attorneys says he will sue for $4,200,000 under the anti-trust laws if the NFLPA doesn't get the recognition it desires from team owners.

Creighton Miller said he was prepared to file the suit last week but the day before it was to be filed NFL Commissioner Bert Bell "somehow got wind of our intention" and telephoned. On being told Bell felt club owners would agree to the NFLPA demands at their Dec. 2 meeting in Philadelphia, Miller said he decided to hold off filing the suit until Dec. 3.

He told a reporter yesterday if the owners agree to the demands "the player representatives" probably will decide not to file their suit.

Want Recognition
The big demand is that "every owner recognize our association, not just Bell. We also want pay for exhibitions and contract provisions to protect injured players."

These demands, said the attorney, a former Notre Dame grid star, are the same as those the association formulated last February. "After Bell recognized us in August, we presented our demands at the all-star game but have made no progress."

Bell said he was authorized to recognize the association but that he needs a favorable vote from 10 of the 12 NFL owners to complete any agreement with the association. "We'll get that (approval) at our meeting," Bell commented from Philadelphia.

Charge Violation
Miller said the association, which claims representatives from 11 of the 12 NFL teams, "plans to charge the league, the clubs and the owners with violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, and ask treble damages amounting to $4,200,000."

The damages, he said, were based on an estimate of the difference between what the players "are getting now and what they would be able to get if they were able to offer their services to an open market."

Bell said he told Miller "he would be very dumb to file (suit), that things were going along very well and that Rome wasn't built in a day."

MANTLE VOTED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN AL

By JOE REICHER
NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees was voted the American League's most valuable player of the 1957 season today by the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

It was the second straight MVP award for the star center fielder but, unlike 1956, when he swept the boards, polling the maximum 336 points, Mantle barely beat out runner-up Ted Williams of Boston and Roy Sievers of Washington. Mantle had 233 points, Williams 209 and Sievers 205.

Mantle had only six first-place votes, compared with five for Williams and four for Sievers, but none of the 24 voting baseball writers named him lower than fourth.

On Every Ballot
Mantle, Williams and Sievers were named on every ballot, as was Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox, who finished fourth with a surprising five votes for first place and 193 points. Gil McDougald of the Yankees commanded the four other first-place votes, finished fifth with 165 points.

It was the fourth time in his brilliant career with the Red Sox that Williams finished second. He won the award in 1946 and 1949.

Vic Wertz, slugging Cleveland first baseman, finished sixth with 61 points. He was followed by Frank Malzone, Red Sox third baseman, 58; Minnie Minoso, Chicago outfielder, 55; Jim Bunning, Detroit pitcher, 46; and Al Kaline, Detroit outfielder, 40.

27 Players Named
Twenty-seven players were named in the voting. New York placed eight, Chicago five, Detroit four, Boston three, Kansas City, Cleveland and Baltimore two and Washington one.

Mantle enjoyed a banner season although it did not quite measure up to his sensational power hitting of the previous year when he captured the triple crown (batting, RBIs and home runs). His .35 batting average, although 12 points higher than his '56 mark, was not good enough to win the championship. Neither were his 34 home runs nor his 94 runs batted in. He missed much of the final three weeks of the season, however, because of a serious case of shin splints.

Two Titles For Sievers
Williams enjoyed one of the greatest seasons—if not the greatest—of his remarkable career. At the age of 39, the great slugger captured his fifth batting title with a mark of .388, his highest since topping .400 in '41. He hammered 38 home runs although he, too, missed three weeks of the season, and posted a fabulous .731 slugging percentage.

Sievers, in his ninth year in the majors, finally came into his own. The 31-year-old outfielder hit 32 home runs and drove in 114 runs to win both titles.

NEGRO WHO TOLD OF KILLING TWO ESCAPES TRIAL

WARWICK, Va. (AP) — Allegheny County, Pa., authorities notified Warwick police today that they will not prosecute a 53-year-old local businessman who has admitted to slaying two persons in Pennsylvania 31 years ago.

James Lawrence, a Negro, strolled into police headquarters late Nov. 3 and said he was Robert Lee Payton, wanted for killing two persons in a Pittsburgh suburb in 1926. Lawrence operates a flooring firm here with his two sons.

Warwick police received a teletype message from Allegheny County detectives today saying a fugitive warrant against Payton has been dismissed. The Pennsylvania authorities said they are having difficulty locating witnesses to the slayings. They said the indictment against Payton will still stand, but they will not prosecute Lawrence nor ask for his extradition.

Free On Bail

Lawrence had been free on $1,000 bond in the case. The bond will be dismissed later today.

Lawrence, who had signed a waiver of extradition to Pennsylvania when he turned himself in, changed his mind two days later and decided to fight extradition. Commonwealth's Atty. Henry D. Garnett said at the time there are many persons who confess to crimes they just read about. Garnett said he was "not at all sure" that wasn't so in Lawrence's case.

Lawrence confessed to the self-defense slayings of his common law wife, Alice Wolford, and her friend, Robert Burrell, with a .38 caliber revolver. Lawrence said the shootings came after he was knifed by the woman and hit by Burrell in an argument that resulted from his attempt to regain a dog. The animal, he said, was taken by the Wolford woman when she separated from him.

One Was Not Killed

However, Capt. George Thomas of the Allegheny County Detective Bureau told a reporter in a telephone interview this week that Burrell did not die until 1927 in another county.

Thomas told reporter Hal Damsky of the Newport News Daily Press reliable witnesses have testified that Burrell was only wounded in the shooting in which Alice Wolford was killed, and that Burrell was killed during an argument in a card game in Washington County, Pa., more than a year later.

CLAIMS PRESS UNFAIR TO LABOR

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—George M. Harrison, vice president of AFL-CIO, today accused the nation's editors of unfairness to labor in their coverage of the McClellan committee.

"I say that the newspapers have failed to point out that the dishonesty and racketeering revealed before the McClellan committee have involved just as many businessmen as labor leaders," Harrison said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.

"For every labor man who took a 'bribe or a kickback' there was a businessman who gave it," Harrison, who also is president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, said that the committee of Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.) was set up to investigate labor and management but "you'll find most newspapers have put the emphasis on the misdeeds of labor."

"You can probably guess that I don't think we've had a fair shake," Harrison added, "and that, incidentally, I said we ever ask, a fair shake."

Another request for fuller coverage came from management, in a speech prepared for delivery by Lamont du Pont Copeland, vice president and chairman of the Finance Committee of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.

"There is good reason to doubt that the public understands as much as it should about the operation of the economic principles that underlie our social, cultural, educational, scientific, and even religious structures," Copeland told the APME.

Yankee Flier In Japan Is On Trial

FUKUOKA, Japan (AP)—Air Force Sgt. Winston Eley, 32, of Philadelphia, went on trial in Fukuoka District Court today on charges of the hit-and-run killing three Japanese.

After opening formalities, the trial was recessed until Dec. 17 at the defense's request.

An indictment read to the court charged Eley with negligent homicide, injuring a fourth person and careless driving in two traffic accidents Sept. 22. One pedestrian and one bicyclist were killed and a few miles away a motorcyclist was fatally injured and his passenger hurt.

The indictment charged that Eley was driving drunk at up to 70 miles an hour. His car was found abandoned several miles from the accidents.

DEMOTE 5 TOLL COLLECTORS

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission has demoted five toll collectors for "neglect."

The commission, in announcing the demotions yesterday, said the action was taken because the five failed to discover that other toll collectors were pocketing money.

The commission identified the five demoted from the rank of sergeant to toll collection officers as: George W. Dittmore, Richard M. Cook and Edward I. Mathews, all of Delaware Water Gap; Richard Cortright of the Milford-Montague Bridge, and Stephen Da Kay of the Portland-Columbia bridge.

William M. Norton, commission chairman, said the men were demoted "in the interest of accomplishing a better and more efficient operation."

Nine employees of the commission have been dismissed while five others sought last month to resign. The resignations were not accepted on the grounds the investigation still is continuing.

Dickinson College Gets $35,000 Gift

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Irene du Pont of Wilmington, Del., former president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., has given $35,000 to Dickinson College to equip and furnish a 3,000-volume library in a new science building now under construction.

The library will honor the memory of du Pont's grandfather, Alfred Victor du Pont, a student at Dickinson more than 140 years ago. Alfred du Pont also was president of the chemical firm founded by his father.

In 1950 Irene du Pont gave $75,000 to Dickinson to establish the Alfred Victor du Pont chair of analytical chemistry.

VALUE OF STATE FARMS ARE UP BY 8 PER CENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Values of Pennsylvania farms, in line with those of most of the nation, are soaring to new record highs. The Agriculture Department, reporting on changes in dollar value of farm land, said the average rise in value of American farms between Nov. 1 of last year and Nov. 1, 1957, is 8 per cent.

And it classed Pennsylvania with a group showing a rise of "8 per cent and over" in farm valuations.

In its own corner of the country, the northeastern states, Pennsylvania showed one of the largest increases in dollar valuation of farm land not only in the last year but since 1940.

No dollar valuations were listed but an index worked out on the basis of 100 for the years 1947-49 scored 161 for Pennsylvania as of Nov. 1.

This rating was surpassed only by New Jersey's 165 and Maryland's 162. Maine was lowest of the 11 northeastern states with an index of 116. The average was 145.

For 1940, Pennsylvania's index stood at 58, or two points below the average of 60 for the northeastern states.

SAYS BUSINESS PUBLICITY BAD

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—James F. Malone, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn., says "management has not been getting its story across to the people with the same force and effect that labor has."

Business must do a better job of public relations in general, Malone told a group of experts in the field. He spoke yesterday at a dinner of the Philadelphia Public Relations Assn.

He said business leaders must also take a more active part in politics. Noting that "labor leadership in this country is in politics with both feet . . . and they are in to stay," he said government today dictates the economy of the nation and "labor and management are often in opposite positions on important public and economic problems."

"It is the bounden duty of business leaders to fight any move that tends to weaken our system of individual initiative and free enterprise," Malone said, adding, "We must go directly to the people. American business was never shy about advertising a good product. Why then hesitate about advertising the virtues of its beliefs?" he asked.

Need Truckload Of Dollars To Purchase British Antiques

LONDON (AP)—Take a truckload of dollars and get to know your subject if you're heading for London to buy antique furniture for the old homestead.

That's the advice of London expert Frank Conyers, a connoisseur himself and editor of the antique trade's principal guide to collectors. Conyers explains the antique business brings out more Latin temperament in the British than moonlight on a Mediterranean skyline.

"I would say," he declares, "that Americans are on the whole poor bargain hunters. They tend to pay the price too easily and without regard to the value of the piece. The result is the market here is being spoiled."

Conyers says the answer is knowledge. "It's inseparable from good antique buying."

"If you show the dealer you know something of the subject and don't look too eager, you'll get the furniture you want at the right price."

The right price, incidentally, will be a good deal cheaper than the cost of a comparable piece of furniture in the States.

Antique Centers

In London there are three main antique centers. Swanky Kensington has acres of "Ye Olde Shoppes" and there are other colonies in arty Chelsea and in the quieter thoroughfares around Baker St., home of the legendary Sherlock Holmes.

Each of these centers can set you up with sturdy old Chippendale, or if you prefer it, Sheraton or Hepplewhite furnishings.

But don't be deceived by the Chippendale label. It's a generic term nowadays, meaning the furniture was made by an 18th century craftsman after the style of the great designer.

You can buy a Chippendale mahogany sideboard of this order for as little as $40. Or you can take home six ladder-backed chairs of the Chippendale style and period for $150.

Is It Genuine?

The genuine thing out of a Chippendale workshop—"just right" as the dealers say—rarely appears on the market. When it does, prices are astronomical. A Chippendale sideboard by the old master himself recently fetched $6,000 at a big London sale.

The same is approximately true of Thomas Sheraton and George Hepplewhite, who with the Chippendale family dominated the field of English furniture designing in the 18th Century.

One thing about London, however, is that you don't have to buy British. English dealers still domi-

SANITY TEST TO BE GIVEN GEIN FOR SLAYINGS

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP)—Edward Gein, who admits slaying two women and pillaging the graves of at least nine other women, wept and prayed yesterday as the courts studied his fate.

The 51-year-old bachelor was arraigned in Waukesha County Court yesterday on a charge of first-degree murder and was bound over to Circuit Court for trial.

Defense counsel William Belter and Dist. Atty. Earl Kileen already had agreed on a sanity test for Gein.

Under Wisconsin law, Circuit Court could commit Gein immediately to the Central State Hospital for the Criminal Insane without hearing the murder trial. Wisconsin does not have capital punishment.

Gein is charged specifically with nate most European sales and more and more of the best French and Italian antiques are to be found in London sales rooms.

The French styles particularly are catching on—especially among visiting Americans. Anthony Cooper, a London dealer who does $300,000 worth of business with the States annually, will sell you an 1840 French escritoire, complete with cut glass candelabra, for $1,000.

"This is the sort of thing American women go for in a big way," he says. "It's gay and frivolous and expensive looking."

Not only that, it's cheap at the price. The same sort of thing with a label by any of the French masters—say Roussel, Boudin or Joubert—will shove another $3,000 on the tag before you can pull out the writing shelf.

But the beauty of antique collecting is you don't always have to buy in the "best" places. Outlying towns such as St. Albans and Brighton, easily reached from London, are crammed with antique shops.

Any one of them may contain just the chair or table needed for the sun lounge back home. And since not even the most experienced dealers is an expert in every branch of his varied trade, there is always the prospect of a knowledgeable tourist carrying off a big bargain.

murder and mutilation last Saturday of Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58-year-old hardware store operator in Plainfield, seven miles from his farm.

He also has admitted slaying and butchering Mrs. Mary Hogan in December 1954.

Gein said Mrs. Worden and Mrs. Hogan were shot to death on impulse when it occurred to him they reminded him of his paralyzed mother, whom he had nursed until she died at their secluded farm home 12 years ago.

The Rev. Kenneth Engelman, 33, pastor of the Wautoma Methodist Church, told newsmen Gein sobbed and prayed.

The clergyman's visit followed four days of official questioning during which the middle-aged handyman told how an unnatural attachment to his mother developed into a sex obsession and led to violation of graves and finally to the two slayings.

He said he watched death notices in newspapers and then opened the graves of women who had just been buried. He said that from some graves he took only the heads, while from others he took the heads and other portions of the corpses. He took a whole body from one grave.

He said he drew "great satisfaction" from donning a vest made from a woman's torso, puttees of human skin and a mask made of a face peeled from a skull.

After his mother died, he said, "I wanted to become a woman."

Stolen Suits Sold As Big Bargains

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Five persons here got their Christmas bargains early. Police Lt. Carl Jackson reported. He said John Benford, 39, buttonholed customers in the street and sold $69.75 men's suits for $35.

Jackson booked Benford on a larceny charge, confiscating the five "bargains" still remaining. The lieutenant said earlier in the day 10 men's suits had been taken from a downtown clothing store.

Routine Vagrancy Arrest In Calif. Traps Escaped Mental Patient Wanted In Slayings

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—"I'm Wetzel. I was in an asylum in New York for awhile."

A dozen words spoken by a man serving 30 days in jail for vagrancy. But they spelled fins last night to a weeklong nationwide manhunt for Frank Edward Wetzel, mental institution escapee sought in the killing of two North Carolina state patrolmen.

Wetzel confirmed his identity after fingerprints on file with the FBI were matched with those taken from a stolen car parked near an alley where he was arrested here Tuesday night.

Hunted Across Nation

Wetzel had been the object of an intense manhunt since Nov. 14, when his prints were taken from another stolen car—one of several found along a trail leading from the scene of the double slaying in North Carolina.

The governor of Mississippi called out the National Guard after Wetzel, 36, escaped from the Willard, N.Y., mental institution Oct. 21. Wetzel had announced that he intended to free his brother, William, 37, who is under a death sentence in the Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman.

Wetzel originally had been arrested Sept. 26 and charged with the burglary of a Batavia, N.Y., gun shop. He had been sent to the mental institution for observation.

URGES BETTER AID ABROAD

Quite A Battle

Two Bakersfield patrolmen arrested Wetzel Tuesday night when they caught him loitering in an alley next to a sporting goods store that sells firearms.

He put up quite a battle, the officers reported, and was taken to the police station in handcuffs.

YORK STRIKE IS SETTLED

YORK, Pa. (AP)—York-Hoover Corp. and Local 1079, United Auto Workers, last night signed a new 30-month contract ending the five-month-old strike at its Truck Body Division plant here.

The company said its 350 employees would return to work Monday.

The strike, longest in this city's history, began June 11. The old contract, for two years, had expired May 31. The new contract will run until May 31, 1960.

Terms of the contract were not immediately available.

The union and the company's board of directors, meeting separately yesterday, approved the tentative agreement announced Tuesday night by State Secretary of Labor and Industry William L. Batt Jr. Batt and York Mayor Fred A. Schiding intervened in the stalemated negotiations earlier this month after York-Hoover threatened to shut down its plant and move.

"AGGRESSION THERMOMETER" PLAN STUDIED

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—The Atlantic Alliance is reported pondering plans for an "aggression thermometer"—a scale by which NATO's American commander would get limited powers to decide on the use of atomic and hydrogen weapons against any Red aggressor.

Informed Western diplomats said the 15-nation Atlantic Alliance is seeking advance agreement on all the varying circumstances in which Communist attacks might take place—and which, would, in the Allied view, make nuclear retaliation instantly permissible.

The Allies at the same time were said to be engaged in the complicated process of trying to define "grades" of aggression. This, informants said, is to determine what form Allied retaliation might take.

Outcome Not Known

The outcome of the study is not yet known. All the members of the alliance are taking part. Conclusions are being prepared for discussion and possible decision in mid-December, when NATO heads of government meet in Paris.

In this way the United States and Britain, as the West's only two nuclear powers, are seeking to associate their partners in some of the decisions that might govern the future use—or nonuse—of nuclear weapons.

Each, implicitly, has the right and chance to state just when it thinks nuclear weapons should or should not be used.

Would Be Top Secret

Informants said if and when the Allies agree on the scale of conditions under which massive, limited or conventional retaliation may take place, it certainly will be kept as one of the top secrets of the alliance.

The United States and Britain were said, meanwhile, to have decided on a basic revision of their own ideas about nuclear retaliation—a revision that is deemed sure to be accepted by NATO when the alliance reviews its strategy at the end of the year.

The two countries have agreed to accept the concept of limited atomic retaliation.

Dulles said as much in a carefully phrased article in Foreign Affairs recently: "It may be possible to defend countries by nuclear weapons so mobile or so placed as to make military invasion with conventional forces a hazardous attempt," the secretary wrote.

Dulles' statement has been in-

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—High-level and nonpartisan? Maybe. For a while. Will it last? Don't bet on it. Next year's an election year.

The shock of the Russian Sputniks has had a quieting effect on some American politicians. Not on all. Not, for instance, on former President Truman.

But there's Adlai Stevenson busily working as a consultant to Secretary of State Dulles.

Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, has taken a very high-level position. So has Ice President Nixon.

Next week a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Johnson begins an investigation of why this country lagged on missiles and satellites and what can be done about it.

Nonpartisan Probe

Johnson has indicated he wants the committee, made up of Democrats and Republicans, to make its inquiry in a nonpartisan way, leaving politics outside. And maybe that's just what the committee will do.

But in next year's congressional elections all 435 House seats are at stake. So are a third of the Senate's 96 seats.

They're all politicians. Missiles and Sputniks will have a political and emotional value for some time, particularly in 1958 if the Russians shoot up some more Sputniks to show how good they are.

Last night Nixon climbed up on the nonpartisan shelf with Johnson.

Got Late Start

He said those familiar with the background know the lag in missiles and satellites is "primarily because the United States got started later than the Soviet Union."

That's hardly front-page news by itself. What's puzzling people is why the lag. Nixon had an answer for that: "The reason lies not in any specific political decision but in a calculated decision made by the military people. We chose to concentrate on long-range strategic bombers."

"The Soviet Union concentrated to a certain extent on long-range bombers but also in missiles at the same time."

Thus Nixon, before the investigation begins, sought to pull the question out of politics and put the blame on the nonpolitical military men in the Defense Department.

Three Nurses Are Cited For Service

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pennsylvania Nurses Assn. last night cited three nurses for having "rendered distinguished service and valuable assistance to the nursing profession in Pennsylvania."

The citations were announced at the association's annual banquet. The nurses are Mrs. Katherine E. F. Miller of Harrisburg, executive secretary of the association for 25 years, Miss Alice M. O'Halloran of Philadelphia, the first public health nurse in Pennsylvania, and Miss Anna G. Prather of Meadville, a private duty nurse for 50 years.

Carmen Basilio, new middle-weight champion, had lost only one of his previous 19 fights when he beat Ray Robinson for the title.

Stan Palys, 27, who hit 359 for Nashville last season, will get another chance with the Cincinnati Redlegs next spring.

His Calendar Said Holiday On 21st

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Calsam bought turkey and trimmings a week early for Thanksgiving. Fortunately, they have a freezer to store them in.

Calsam, manager of a television cable concern, took his wife shopping last Saturday after he found the holiday listed on his office calendar as Nov. 21.

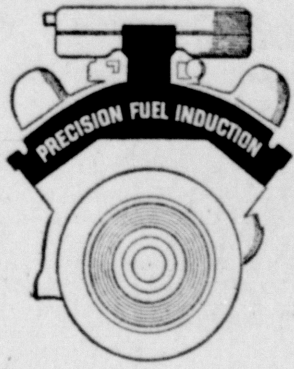

He ran into an argument when he phoned his daughter to make sure the family would come for dinner. Investigation of other calendars set him straight.

Calsam confirmed yesterday that the calendar manufacturer was responsible for the mistake.

Calls For 70,000 More For Science

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover urges an annual increase of at least 70,000 high school graduates who could qualify for college study of science and engineering.

Hoover spoke last night at a dinner marking the opening of a campaign to raise money for a new 10-million-dollar national engineering center on United Nations Plaza between 47th and 48th streets.

JUDGE SLAYER'S DEATH SENTENCE IS COMMUTED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Norman W. Moon, who once refused to ask that his life be spared, waited in Western State Penitentiary in Pittsburgh today for an order committing him to a mental hospital instead of the electric chair.

Gov. Leader, acting on the recommendation of the State Board of Pardons, yesterday commuted the 32-year-old convicted judge slayer's term to life and ordered action taken to commit him to the Farview Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Waymart in Wayne County.

Dr. Kenneth Taylor, deputy commissioner of treatment for the Bureau of Corrections, said Moon will be moved to Farview after official notice is received of the governor's decision. That was expected to take a couple days.

Faced Death In Chair

Moon was scheduled to die in the electric chair at Rockview State Penitentiary in less than two weeks for shooting to death Judge Allison D. Wadlen the Warren County Courtroom, where he was being tried in a non-support case, on Jan. 13, 1954. Moon was tried and convicted of murder the following May after recovering from bullet wounds self-inflicted when he was cornered by state police in his car shortly after the shooting.

The Pardons Board recommended his death sentence be commuted and he be sent somewhere for treatment after receiving a report from three Pittsburgh psychiatrists who had examined Moon at the board's request.

The psychiatrists, Drs. Henry W. Brosen, James M. Henninger and Robert J. Hudson, gave it as their unanimous opinion that the former Connellsville resident "is mentally ill with a disorder commonly known as schizophrenia, paranoid type."

"Mentally Ill"

A sanity commission appointed in the summer of 1954 by the Warren County Court also found Moon mentally ill, but also told the court it found him able to comprehend the nature of his crime, and the trial and sentence which followed.

On this basis, Warren County Judge Alexander C. Flick declared Moon legally sane and ordered the sentencing carried out. The State Supreme Court later ruled that the judge acted within his discretion in rejecting the commission's finding of mental illness.

SAY WHITE TO GET RIGHTS JOB

WASHINGTON (AP)—W. Wilson White, an assistant attorney general, reportedly has been chosen to head the new Civil Rights Division in the Justice Department.

This information came last night from informed sources. In Philadelphia, his home, White said it was impossible for him to comment.

A Justice Department spokesman also declined comment. He said there has been nothing final on an appointee to fill the post authorized by the civil rights law passed at the last session of Congress.

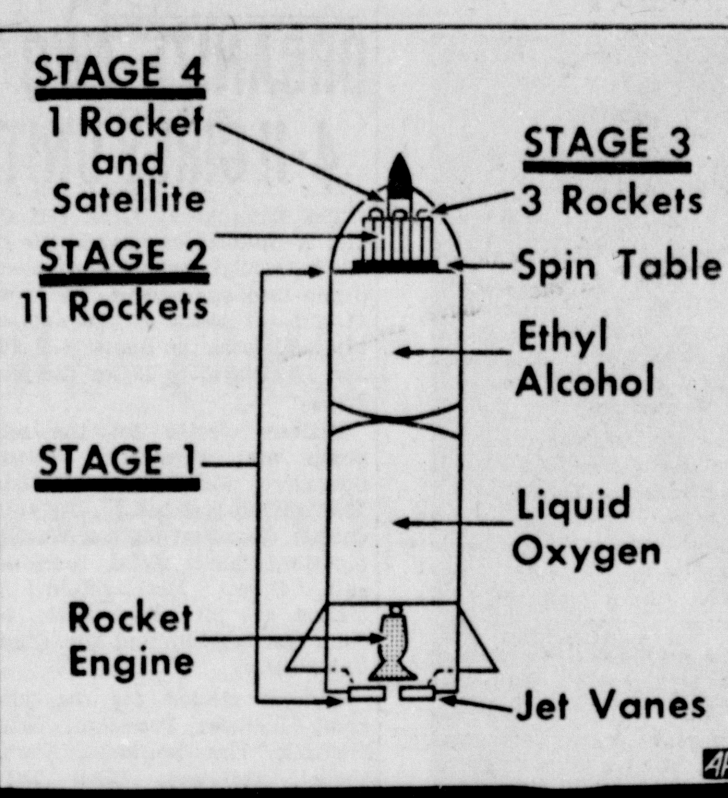

That law provides that the new Civil Rights Division shall be headed by an assistant attorney general.

Since White already is an assistant attorney general handling other duties, it was not immediately clear whether his name would have to be submitted to the Senate again for confirmation as head of the Civil Rights Division.

White, 51, practiced law in his native Philadelphia from 1934 to 1953 when he became U. S. attorney for eastern Pennsylvania.

Said To Be U.S. Satellite Vehicle

This drawing is based on a schematic by Aviation Age magazine, which said Tuesday that the satellite to be launched by U. S. Army apparently will be hurled into its orbit by a four-stage vehicle using both liquid and solid propellants. Satellite will be a 20-pound moon, it said, and vehicle will have four sections: 1. A North American 75,000-pound thrust engine, weighing about 55,000 pounds and burning Ethyl alcohol and liquid oxygen; 2. Eleven "recruit" solid-propellant rockets arranged in a circle; 3. Three "recruit" rockets mounted inside the circle of Stage 2 rockets; and 4. A single "recruit" carrying the satellite.

ALL-AMERICAN LINE PROSPECTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Alex Karras, Iowa's 1956 All-America tackle, Kentucky's Lou Michaels and Georgia Tech's Don Stephenson second-team selections a year ago, and Charles Krueger of Texas A&M, a third team choice, all are among the leading prospects for the 1957 All-America football team.

Three of the four are tackles, which complicates the business of trying to select the best team.

These four aren't the only candidates or necessarily the best prospects among the nation's college linemen. In a late-season rundown by regional boards, no fewer than 41 linemen were listed as outstanding prospects for the seven available positions.

To Be Announced Dec. 5

The Associated Press All-America team, to be announced Dec. 5, is based on performances over the entire season. The final evaluation is made after regional boards, composed of sports writers and sportscasters and representing every region and major conference, have rated the players they consider the best.

The best manned line positions appear to be the end and guard spots. The names of 14 guards and 13 ends were submitted by the regional boards this week.

The strong end squad includes Les Walters of Penn State.

SENATORS PLAN SWIFT INQUIRY ON MISSILES

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee meets today to complete plans for a swift inquiry aimed at speeding up the nation's missile program.

Even as the senators were swinging into action, two members of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee called for an immediate start on the production of intermediate range ballistic missiles.

The seven-member Senate subcommittee, under the chairmanship of Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, has tentatively scheduled five days of public hearings, beginning Monday.

To Be Nonpartisan

Johnson has emphasized that the inquiry will be nonpartisan and will see to find ways to strengthen the nation's security rather than to search for a "scapegoat" for past errors.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the House group, and Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) said after taking secret testimony from top Pentagon officials that the time had come to move on from the testing stage to production of missiles already developed. He said the nation is ready to go into operation.

al production of 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missiles.

Vice President Nixon predicted the Senate inquiry will be constructive and nonpolitical because of "the character of those conducting it and because no political advantage can accrue to either party by an investigation in this field."

Traced To 45-51

Addressing the Committee for Economic Development, Nixon said the United States fell behind Russia in missile development owing to "a calculated decision by the military people" in the 1945-51 period.

"We chose to concentrate on long-range strategic bombers" in spending available defense funds, he said, while "the Soviet Union concentrated to a certain extent on long-range bombers but also on missiles at the same time."

Nixon said, however, that this country now is making a "massive effort" in the fields of intercontinental and intermediate range missiles and has effective programs under way.

"If we continue to devote the proper effort and adequate funds," he said, "there is no reason why the United States and its allies need stay behind."

F. B. HARRISON DIES THURSDAY

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (AP)—Francis Burton Harrison, former governor general of the Philippines and member of Congress, died in Hunterdon Medical Center yesterday of a heart ailment. He was 83.

A resident of nearby Calton, Harrison had been in failing health for several years and entered the hospital a week ago.

He served as governor general of the Philippines from 1913 to 1921. A strong advocate of the establishment of a Philippine republic, he has been called the Grandfather of Philippine Independence.

After the islands were finally granted complete independence July 4, 1946, Harrison served as an adviser to the first four presidents of the republic.

Before being appointed to the Philippines by President Woodrow Wilson, he served five terms in Congress as a Democratic representative from New York City.

His bill requiring doctors to account for all narcotics which they bought and distributed formed the basis for the later Pure Food and Drug Act.

He was married several times. His widow, Marie Theresa Aguirre, survives, as do eight children.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Dost think this turkey will please the Pilgrim Fathers? Those cranberries have been strung with careful fingers, the bird itself has been roasted to just the proper degree of succulent brownness, and that bit of wheat, lying on the table, symbolizes the rich bounty of this year's harvest.

If our Puritan maid, Priscilla, looks a bit skeptical, it is only because she is wondering if tom turkey will be big enough to satisfy all the hungry guests.

They will be coming with vigorous appetites, whetted by the walk through snow covered fields from Church, where they have given thanks for their good fortune.

And on all Thanksgivings since that first one, thankful people have knelt in prayer. Thanksgiving is our own American holiday, unlike any other. It is deeply religious in nature. We can only observe it, like the Pilgrims, we go to church to give our thanks. And never have a people had cause to be so thankful for so much.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday School Lesson

By H. R. and M. C. Gold

CHRISTIAN GIVING

1 Corinthians 16: 1-14
Key Verse: Let all that you do be done in love. 1 Corinthians 16:14.
The advice Paul gave to the Christians at Corinth was based on experiences plus a careful interpretation of Christ's teachings. In this lesson some very practical matters concerning stewardship of money are discussed. The reason for it was that the generous hearted members at Corinth had questions to ask about the offerings Paul was collecting for the churches in special need. In this case the church in greatest need was the mother church in Jerusalem. When Paul spoke, "Now concerning the contribution for the saints," the members knew immediately whom he meant.

The church at Jerusalem suffered from two emergencies: poverty due to drought, famine, and poor working conditions; and poverty due to the kind of communism they practiced — a sharing of members' resources of the Christian community. But Paul does not appeal to their sympathies, but tries to give them the proper motive for Christian giving. He tells them to give as the churches at Galatia had — in a regular, systematic way. This is his practical suggestion: "On the first day of every week, each of you is to put something aside and store it up, as he may prosper, so that contributions need not be made when I come."

Serve God's Ministry

The Lord's Day is the proper day to set aside the gifts necessary to carry on God's ministry of love on earth. This system was to avoid last minute appeals when emergencies arose and to prevent excuses for not giving. Paul knew that systematic giving would provide adequate funds to do the benevolent work needed. People cannot be truly Christian if they do not have a concern for those who are less fortunate or who need help temporarily.

The next bit of advice and strategy was to suggest that "those whom you accredit by letter to carry your gift" be the ones to deliver the gifts themselves. Since there were no checks or mail routes in those days, these money gifts had to be delivered in person. Paul had plans whereby he would accompany these accredited representatives from the various churches to Jerusalem. He describes his plan whereby he will first finish his important work at Ephesus as "a wide door for effective work has opened," then go to Macedonia, and on to Corinth where he hopes to spend a longer time, probably the next winter.

Timothy was the one entrusted with Paul's letter, so Paul adds a word of admonition on how to receive his young assistant, saying: "When Timothy comes, see that you put him at ease among you, for he is doing the work of the Lord, as I am. So let no one despise him. Speed him on his way in peace, that he may return to me..."

Christian Giving

Paul thus laid the foundation or basis for Christian giving, teaching them how to set aside their gifts regularly as an act of worship. This giving should be done freely and naturally, in memory of what Christ gave for us. Thus stewardship of money becomes an act of faith and love — a desire to reach out the hand of Christian love to those who need it. It is not necessary to see the results of our benevolence. We do know that such gifts are blessed by God. God expects his followers to give as he has prospered them. Sometimes men are foolish enough to believe that they have accumulated wealth by their own efforts only.

The last verse is another admonition, to show that Christian giving is faith working through love: "Be watchful, stand firm in your faith, be courageous, be strong. Let all that you do be done in love."

FIRST MISSILE LAUNCHING SITE WILL BE IN ARIZ.

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon appeared today to have pinpointed the first major launching site for the developing American intercontinental ballistic missile.

The surprise announcement last night that work will start by mid-1958 on a multimillion-dollar missile site near Cheyenne, Wyo., capped these other developments in the expedited drive to obtain and tell about American progress in new weapons in the wake of Russia's Sputnik launchings:

1. Military experts convinced Chairman Mahon (D-Tex) of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee that the United States has progressed to the point where it is high time to start producing shooting hardware of the intermediate ballistic missile variety. Mahon, who a day earlier had said we are "seriously behind" the Russians, commented: "I look for production orders . . . very soon."

2. Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy stepped up his search for a tough-minded manager to take over full charge of such future space warfare weapons as the antiballistic missile, over which the Army and the Air Force are bickering.

The Defense Department announced that 65 million dollars will be spent to transform Warren Air Force Base, two miles west of Cheyenne, from a technical training school into a missile site. It carefully said only that the project is "required to support the missile program." Officials let it be known, however, that an intercontinental missile was the only logical weapon that would require such an expensive outlay and that could be effectively operated from the Wyoming location.

The intermediate, 1,500-mile-range ballistic weapons, as the administration has recently emphasized, will be stationed and fired, in the event of war, from bases located in friendly countries abroad.

control of Warren Air Force Base when conversion is completed, is the agency through which the Air Force develops and tests its new weapons and equipment.

No ICBMs are yet available for use, but the Air Force has two types under development. Its Atlas 5,000-mile missile is at the testing stage. Another named Titan is somewhat less advanced, although its prime contractors, the Martin Co., yesterday announced successful static tests of important rocket components of this weapon.

(The New York Times said today that the National Security Council has accepted Air Force claims for the reliability of the Thor intermediate range ballistic missile.)

(A Washington dispatch to the newspaper added that the Council has approved production plans for the weapon, contingent upon the Defense Department's spending schedules.)

The Weeders Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — Autumn's final chore — usually accomplished when it is just a little too chilly for comfortable outdoor work — is winterizing the garden equipment. It would seem that cleaning mud from hand cultivators and draining the gasoline and oil from power mowers would be an easy enough job. But, like so many other jobs, one thing leads to another, and the winter tool cleanup turns — in my case — into a general cleanup of the garage and half the cellar.

Power mowers are usually accompanied by instructions for winterizing. Mine must have the oil drained (but nobody ever tells you what to do with old oil), the gas tank drained. Then the spark plug is removed, oil placed under it and then it is replaced — but not connected. The nastiest job is cleaning the whole machine and then wiping it with an oiled rag or with petroleum jelly to prevent rust. We store ours in a corner of the garage, resting on the cutting bar instead of the tires, and all swathed in a plastic sheet.

Prepare Spray Equipment

A more difficult job is preparing the spraying equipment for winter. For tank-type sprayers this requires pails, wrenches, screwdrivers, scrubbing brushes, trisodium phosphate, vinegar kerosene — and rubber gloves. Take the whole thing apart and place the smaller metal parts in kerosene. Remove the hose and scrub out the tank with trisodium phosphate (which comes under a variety of trade names). I use a straightened metal clothes hanger to poke through the metal rods, after which I soak them in the trisodium solution. (I also treat any leather washers with a bit of lanolin-base face cream to keep them soft.) I pour a mild solution of vinegar water through the rubber hoses. When all is clean, I coat the metal parts lightly with oil, drop them in a cloth bag and tie them onto the tank. Rubber parts are also wrapped — but without oil coating, of course. And the hose is hung carefully over a wooden — not metal — peg. Glass bottles and the duster I clean carefully. I store all my spraying equipment in the cellar. This is a lot of work. I admit, but my spraying equipment is all 10 years old, and with the exception of replacements of some rubber parts, it is as good as new.

Keep Tools Clean

Tools, of course, should be washed clean of mud. Spading fork tines are easy to straighten by inserting the bent one in a piece of pipe and pulling gently. Then I rub over all metal parts with an oiled rag. At the same time, I use sandpaper to rub off any splinters in wooden handles or wrap handles in plastic tape to prevent blisters next season. Tools which need a touch of paint go into the cellar for care at my winter leisure.

This is a good time, too, to check over last season's seeds, throwing to the birds those which will have a low percentage of germination next spring. Also check over the garden chemicals, removing to a warmer spot any which are ruined by freezing, throwing away empty bottles and containers, scrubbing and stacking flower pots, labeling box contents clearly. And most important, removing the whole collection of weed and pest killers to a safe spot where neither adults, children nor pets can possibly reach them by accident, or mischievous

OUTDOOR SHOWROOM — Clients of a Hamburg, West Germany, construction material firm can make their selection of bricks by scanning walls of structure housing firm's office.

The Associated Press

What's with the teen mail sack? If one is to judge by the volume, it would seem that every young modern has a problem, if that is any comfort to you. Maybe one here just hits your spot, so hope the answers rally the spirit.

Q. I have wanted to be a nurse, but my parents say that I will tire of it, that the pay is too small, that I will be unhappy. I am 18 and I never have wanted any other career. What shall I do?

A. Your parents are probably the best judge of your suitability to the job. But if you are truly dedicated to the idea of nursing, the chances are you will love it in spite of problems. The basic motivation of nursing is to serve humanity and if you feel that way about the work, monetary remunerations will be secondary. Nurses are needed more than ever before as hospitals are overcrowded. If one must lend financial help at home, however, perhaps the nursing pay, particularly in the training stage, will be insufficient.

Gal Is Smoker

Q. My girl smokes one cigarette after another. I am on the football team and am in training. I do not like to smoke anyway. But I am getting tired of seeing this girl with a cigarette dangling out of the corner of her mouth. I like her in every other way, but this habit is driving me mad.

A. Why don't you appeal to the girl on the basis of your esthetic reaction to her smoking? If you mention after a kiss that the tobacco scent is real high, maybe she will slow down.

Q. I am fond of a boy and have been dating him about two years, off and on. He likes me very much and is at my home all the time, even when we do not have a date, as my brother is also a friend of his. We have had an understanding, I guess. Just recently I feel lots older than he, even though he is three months older than I. We are both 17. I met another boy at a friend's house and he came to call on me on one Saturday night. My "regular" friend dropped in later without being invited. He was very upset to find me entertaining the other boy, and stayed in the living room the entire time. When the other boy left, I told him I thought we had grown apart. He burst into tears and said he assumed we were more or less engaged. What should I do? I do not want to hurt his feelings, but I do not love him anymore, and never could again, because he seems like such a weak individual.

Give Him Brush-off

A. The quick decision is better than a lingering death in this case so it would be a good idea to give him a brush-off as soon as possible. If the boy is emotionally disturbed about you and there is no hope of regaining your love for him, all the more reason to call the whole thing off now.

Q. Should I get married before I do my stint in military training? My girl says she will not wait for me and wants to get married now.

A. She must be a pretty unreasonable type. You have not yet reached the maturity to achieve the goals necessary to a smooth marriage. Ask yourself:

(1) Are you really in love (only experience can give you the answer)?

(2) Are you able to support a family at this point even though you may not have carved out your niche for the future?

If the girl does not want to wait, take your chances. If she loves you, she will wait.
